

After School

Lucy is a student at Marsh Secondary School. She has lots of friends. Her best friend is Janet. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons, Lucy and her friends go to the after-school club. At the club they play games, do art and crafts, watch movies, play sports, listen to music, perform shows, sing and dance. Today is Monday and they are all at the club.

Lucy and her friends are talking about different dancing styles from around the world and practicing them.

Lucy: What is the name of this dance, Janet?

Janet: It is line dancing.

Lucy: Which country is it from?

Janet: The USA.

The girls keep on practicing dancing. Marisol dances a different style.

Janet: What kind of dance is that, Marisol?

Marisol: It is a traditional Turkish dance. It is called Horon.

Janet: It is cool.

The girls learn new dance styles and enjoy themselves.

Today is Tuesday. Lucy is in her science class. She is talking to her friend, Brian.

Lucy: What are you doing after school today?

Brian: I am going swimming. I am a member of the school swimming team. How about you, Lucy?

Lucy: I'm going to my piano lesson this evening.

Brian: What time do you have your piano lesson?

Lucy: At 7:30 pm.

Brian: Oh! It's late. I'm watching my favourite cartoon at that time. I hope you enjoy your piano lesson.

Lucy: Thank you.

Today is Wednesday. It is 4:30. Lucy and her friends are at the after-school club. Today, they are playing board games. Lucy is playing chess with Janet. Marisol and Brian are playing tic-tac-toe. Karl and Josie are learning how to play backgammon with their maths teacher, Mrs Williams. They look very happy, and they are enjoying themselves.

Marisol: Wow! It's really difficult to play backgammon.

Mrs Williams: No way! You are a clever boy. You can learn it easily.

Today is Thursday. Lucy and her friends are at maths lesson. Lucy is talking to her friend, Marisol.

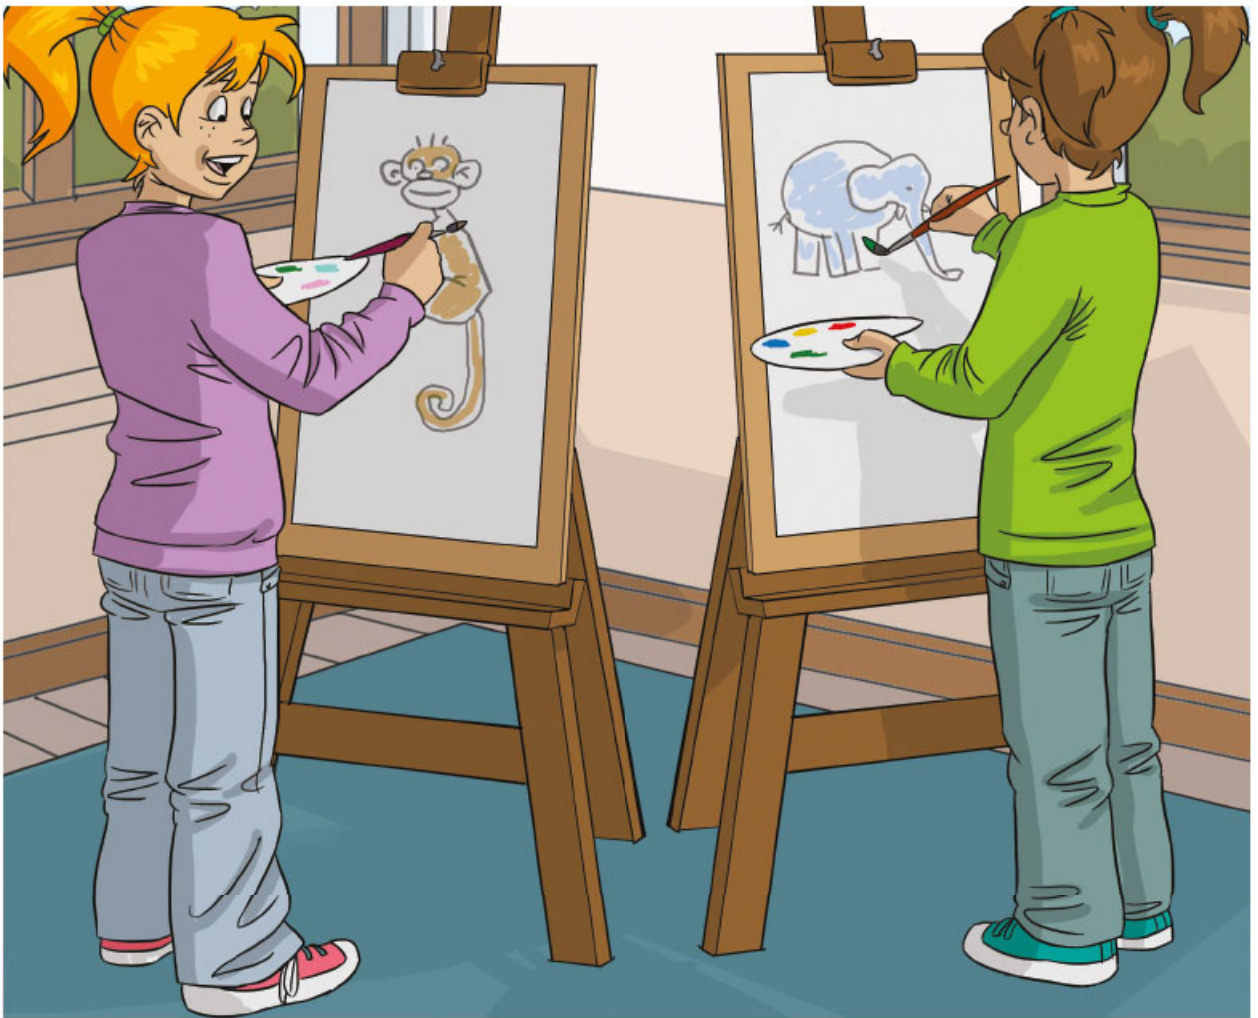

Lucy: What are you doing after school today?

Marisol: I am doing my homework. What about you?

Lucy: I am taking my dog to the vet.

Today is Friday. Lucy and her friends are drawing and painting animal pictures at the after-school club.

Janet: What time is it, Lucy?

Lucy: It is quarter past five.

Janet: Thank you, Lucy. I have my French lesson at six o'clock.
What are you doing after the club?

Lucy: I am visiting my uncle. Then, my cousins and I are hanging around in the neighborhood.

Janet: Have fun!

Lucy: Thank you. What are you doing this weekend?

Janet: I am helping my mother and running errands for my grandparents. How about you?

Lucy: I am going to my horon dance class on Saturday. On Sunday, I am resting and watching a movie.

Janet: Have a good weekend.

Lucy: You, too! See you on Monday.
